

HOW TO MAKE A TWIST TURN CARD

Please note - some photos show an actual card being made but some photos show the folds on plain white card to help you see the folds better.

1. Print backing paper. (If using card where only one side is glossy, print onto the non-glossy side). Put back into the printer and print the main card body onto the glossy side of the backing paper.
2. Print the pyramid layers, decoupage and insert (onto the glossy side of the card if this is the type of card you're using).
3. Cut out the main card body and the decoupage etc.
4. By following the diagram, score the main card body as indicated, making sure that your card is face up.

(Score from A to B, C to D and E to F. )

5. With card facing you the right way up, make a mountain fold horizontally along the centre from B to G.
6. Make a valley fold from A to G. (C to D and E to F are also valley folds).

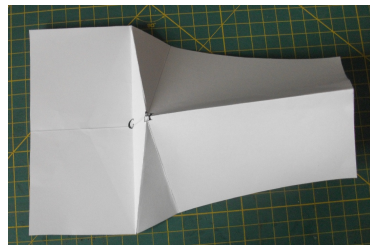

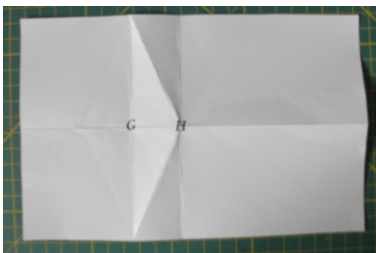

7. Fold the card in half lengthwise, with outside of card showing. Score from H to D. Fold this into a mountain fold.

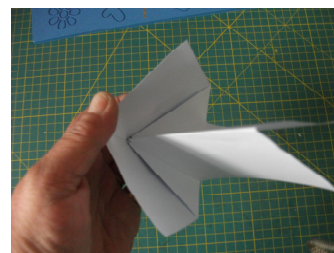

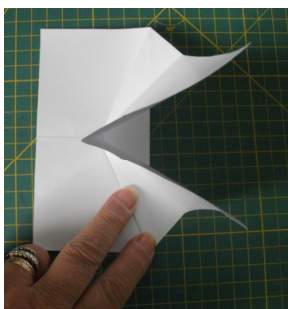

- Then flip over (still folded in half lengthwise) and score from C to H. Fold this into a mountain fold.

8. Flatten all folds with a bone folder. Open up and flatten card.

9. Fold the horizontal mountain fold along the centre (from G to B), at the same time, take hold of left side of card and fold it up making a vertical valley fold from C to D.

10. If the card doesn't automatically pop into shape, gently take the bottom left corners (front and back) and push them along towards the right, so that the concealed triangles (on the middle rectangle) fold, and you end up with a diamond on the left front and back, which has its bottom corner inline with the bottom edge of the main card, and its top corner sticks up above the top straight edge of the card. (See photos).

11. Stick on pyramid layers and decoupage.

12. Stick insert inside card.

13. Print envelope onto paper and cut out. Score fold lines and stick side flaps to back. Put a strip of double sided tape along the top flap but don't remove the backing strip. This will be used to seal the envelope for posting.
